

MONTELOPIO (Province of Pisa) REF. 114

Located in a lesser known part of Tuscany, undiscovered by most of the visitors, the villa, on the outskirts of the medieval village of Montelopio, is idyllically located in a beautiful, lush and varied landscape dotted with olive groves, vines, fields of wheat and sunflowers.

Situated where the provinces of Pisa, Siena and Florence meet, the Villa is just a short distance from the well preserved historical towns of San Gimignano and Volterra.

Even the village of Montelopio, about 1 km from the Villa, boasts an ancient history. The Etruscans, Longobards, the seafaring Republic of Pisa, the Templars and the noble families of the Grand Duchy of Tuscany have all left their traces as they passed through or settled, attracted by this "prosperous hill".

The villa is a traditional 1800 Tuscan farmhouse converted with great attention to detail by the owners. The original features such as the terra cotta flooring, chestnut wooden beams and stone walls enhance the modern restoration to provide a comfortable environment.
